About Us:

Parting Ridge Farm is a small, family farm owned and operated by multi-generational farmers Freel and Eleanor Shipe (4th), Kent Shipe (5th), along with Kevin and Jason Shipe (6th).

The name Parting Ridge refers to the drainage divide on one of the farm's ridges. Water on one side of the ridge drains to the Lost River while the other side drains to the North Fork of the Shenandoah River. Eventually the drainage converges at Harpers Ferry, WV.
